Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Solar Securities, Inc., which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the related statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a material accounting policy information.

In our opinion the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRS, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, IV, V and VI is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but supplementary information required by Rule 52.1-5 of the Revised Securities Regulation Code. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the financial statements and in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

The Company intends to adopt the following pronouncements when they become effective.

Effective beginning on or after January 1, 2026

- Amendments to Illustrative Examples on PFRS 7, PFRS 18, Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS) 1, PAS 8, PAS 26 and PAS 37, Disclosures about Uncertainties in the Financial Statements

The amendments were issued to improve transparency and consistency in financial reporting, especially regarding uncertainties that affect financial statements (such as economic conditions, climate risks, or estimation uncertainties).

Their main objectives are to:

- Help entities explain significant uncertainties and assumptions in their financial statements.
- Improve comparability and clarity of financial disclosures.
- Reduce inconsistencies between financial statements and sustainability reports.
- Provide practical examples of applying disclosure requirements.

- Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures

  In May 2024, the IASB issued amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures which clarify the derecognition of a financial liability settled through electronic transfer and introduces an accounting policy option to derecognize a financial liability settled through electronic transfer before the settlement date, if specific criteria are met. The amendments additionally clarify the classification of financial assets with environmental, social and corporate governance and similar features and also required additional disclosures for certain financial instruments. The amendments will be effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026. The amendments are to be applied retrospectively.

  The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

Annual Improvements to PFRS Accounting Standards-Volume 11

- Amendments to PFRS 1, Hedge Accounting by a First-time Adopter

  The amendments modified paragraphs B5–B6 of IFRS 1:
  - to improve consistency with the requirements in IFRS 9 'Financial Instruments', and
  - to add cross-references to improve the understandability of IFRS 1.

  The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

- Amendments to PFRS 7, Gain or Loss on Derecognition

  The amendments modified paragraph B38 of IFRS 7:
  - to replace an obsolete reference to paragraph 27A of IFRS 7 with a reference to paragraphs 72–73 of IFRS 13 'Fair Value Measurement', and

- to replace the phrase 'inputs that were not based on observable market data' with 'unobservable inputs' to make the wording consistent with the wording in paragraph 72 of IFRS 13.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

- Amendments to PFRS 9, Lessee Derecognition of Lease Liabilities and Transaction Price

The IASB's amendments remove the conflict between IFRS 9 and IFRS 15 over the amount at which a trade receivable is initially measured. Under IFRS 15, a trade receivable may be recognized at an amount that differs from the transaction price – e.g. when the transaction price is variable. Conversely, IFRS 9 requires that companies initially measure trade receivables without a significant financing component at the transaction price. The IASB has amended IFRS 9 to require companies to initially measure a trade receivable without a significant financing component at the amount determined by applying IFRS 15.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

- Amendments to PFRS 10, Determination of a 'De Facto Agent'

Amends paragraph B74 of IFRS 10 'Consolidated Financial Statements' to use less conclusive language and to clarify that the relationship described in paragraph B74 is just one example of a circumstance in which judgement is required to determine whether a party is acting as a de facto agent.

The amendments apply for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments have no impact on Company.

- Amendments to PAS 7, Cost Method

Amends paragraph 37 of IAS 7 to replace the term 'cost method' with 'at cost'.
The amendments apply for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Earlier application is permitted.

The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

Effective beginning on or after January 1, 2027

- PFRS 17, Insurance Contracts

IFRS 17 establishes the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of insurance contracts within the scope of the standard. The objective of IFRS 17 is to ensure that an entity provides relevant information that faithfully represents those contracts. This information gives a basis for users of financial statements to assess the effect that insurance contracts have on the entity's financial position, financial performance and cash flows. IFRS 17 was issued in May 2017 and applies to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023.

Through IC Circular Letter (CL) No. 2020-62, the adoption of PFRS 17 was deferred from January 1, 2023 to January 2025.

IC then issues IC Circular Letter No. 2025-04 further extending the adoption of PFRS 17. All companies shall adopt PFRS 17 in their AFS for submission to the SEC effective January 1, 2027. However, companies are allowed to adopt PFRS 17 in their AFS beginning January 1, 2025.

The amendments will not have an impact on the Company's financial statements.

- IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements ("IFRS 18")

  In April 2024, the IASB issued IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements ("IFRS 18") which replaces IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. IFRS 18 introduces new requirements on presentation within the statement of profit or loss, disclosure of management defined performance measures, and principles for aggregation and disaggregation of financial information in the financial statements and the notes. IFRS 18 will be effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027. IFRS 18 is to be applied retrospectively.

  The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting these amendments.

- PFRS 19, Subsidiaries without Public Accountability

  IFRS 19 specifies reduced disclosure requirements that an eligible entity is permitted to apply instead of the disclosure requirements in other IFRS Accounting Standards.

  IFRS 19 was issued in May 2024 and applies to an annual reporting period beginning on or after 1 January 2027.

  The amendments will not have an impact on the Company's financial statements.

- Amendments to PAS 21, Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency

  The amendments to PAS 21 clarify the method for translating financial statements into a hyperinflationary presentation currency. They require entities to translate all financial statement amounts using the closing exchange rate, improving consistency, comparability, and transparency in financial reporting.

Deferred effectivity

- Amendments to PFRS 10, Consolidated Financial Statements, and PAS 28, Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture

  The amendments address the conflict between PFRS 10 and PAS 28 in dealing with the loss of control of a subsidiary that is sold or contributed to an associate or joint venture. The amendments clarify that a full gain or loss is recognized when a transfer to an associate or joint venture involves a business as defined in PFRS 3. Any gain or loss resulting from the sale or contribution of assets that does not constitute a business, however, is recognized only to the extent of unrelated investors' interests in the associate or joint venture.

  The amendments are not applicable and will have no impact on the Company since the Company is not an investment entity or does it have an investment entity associate.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand and in banks. Cash equivalents are temporary placements with maturity of less than three (3) months which can be withdrawn anytime depending on the immediate cash requirement of the Company and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

Financial Instruments

Financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity or a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Date of Recognition

The Company recognizes a financial asset or financial liability in the statements of financial position when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of a financial instrument. In the case of a regular way purchase or sale of financial assets, recognition and derecognition, as applicable, is done using settlement date accounting.

Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial instruments are recognized initially at fair value, which is the fair value of the consideration given (in case of an asset) or received (in case of a liability). The initial measurement of financial instruments, except for those designated at fair value through profit and loss (FVPL), includes transaction cost.

"Day 1" difference

Where the transaction in a non-active market is different from the fair value of other observable current market transactions in the same instrument or based on a valuation technique whose variables include only data from observable market, the Company recognizes the difference between the transaction price and fair value (a "Day 1" difference) in profit or loss. In cases where there is no observable data on inception, the Company deems the transaction price as the best estimate of fair value and recognizes "Day 1" difference in profit or loss when the inputs become observable or when the instrument is derecognized. For each transaction, the Company determines the appropriate method of recognizing the "Day 1" difference.

Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets at initial recognition under the following categories:
a) financial assets at FVPL; b) financial assets at amortized cost and c) financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI).

Financial liabilities, on the other hand, are classified as either financial liabilities at FVPL or financial liabilities at amortized cost. The classification of a financial instrument largely depends on the Company's business model and its contractual cash flow characteristics.

Financial Assets and Liabilities at FVPL

Financial assets and liabilities at FVPL are either classified as held for trading or designated at FVPL. A financial instrument is classified as held for trading if it meets either of the following conditions:

- it is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term;
- on initial recognition, it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that are managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument).

This category includes equity instruments which the Company had not irrevocably elected to classify at FVOCI at initial recognition. This category includes debt instruments whose cash flows are not "solely for payment of principal and interest" assessed at initial recognition of the assets, or which are not held within a business model whose objective is either to collect contractual cash flows, or to both collect contractual cash flows and sell.

The Company may, at initial recognition, designate a financial asset or financial liability meeting the criteria to be classified at amortized cost or at FVOCI, as a financial asset or financial liability at FVPL, if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces accounting mismatch that would arise from measuring these assets or liabilities.

After initial recognition, financial assets at FVPL and held for trading financial liabilities are subsequently measured at fair value. Unrealized gains or losses arising from the fair valuation of financial assets at FVPL and held for trading financial liabilities are recognized in profit or loss.

For financial liabilities designated at FVPL under the fair value option, the amount of change in fair value that is attributable to changes in the credit risk of that liability is recognized in other comprehensive income (rather than in profit or loss), unless this creates an accounting mismatch. Amounts presented in other comprehensive income are not subsequently transferred to profit or loss.

Financial Assets at Amortized Cost
Financial assets shall be measured at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:
- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial recognition, financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measure at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less allowance for impairment, if any. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the financial assets are derecognized and through amortization process. Financial assets at amortized cost are included under current assets if realizability or collectability is within 12 months after the reporting period. Otherwise, these are classified as noncurrent assets.

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024 the Company's cash and cash equivalents, receivables from customers and receivables from clearing house are included under this category (see Notes 4,7,8).

Financial Assets at FVOCI
For debt instruments that meet the contractual cash flow characteristic and are not designated at FVPL under the fair value option, the financial assets shall be measured at FVOCI if both of the following conditions are met:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

For equity instruments, the Company may irrevocably designate the financial asset to be measured at FVOCI in case the above conditions are not met.

Financial assets at FVOCI are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. After initial recognition, interest income (calculated using the effective interest rate method), foreign currency gains or losses and impairment losses of debt instruments measured at FVOCI are recognized directly in profit or loss. When the financial asset is derecognized, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognized in OCI are reclassified from equity to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment.

Dividends from equity instruments held at FVOCI are recognized in profit or loss when the right to receive payment is established, unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Foreign currency gains or losses and unrealized gains or losses from equity instruments are recognized in OCI and presented in the equity section of the statements of financial position. These fair value changes are recognized in equity and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company designated its quoted investments in equity securities carried at fair value as financial assets at FVOCI as disclosed in Note 6.

Financial Liabilities at Amortized Cost
Financial liabilities are categorized as financial liabilities at amortized cost when the substance of a contractual arrangement results in the Company having an obligation either to deliver cash or another financial asset to the holder or to settle the obligation other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of its own equity instruments.

These financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value less any directly attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, these financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using effective interest method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on the issue and fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized or through the amortization process.

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company's liabilities arising from its trade payables to customers, payable to clearing house and accrued expense and other current liabilities excluding government liabilities, are included under this category (see Notes 12, 13 and 14)

Reclassification
The Company reclassifies its financial assets when, and only when, it changes its business model for managing those financial assets. The reclassification is applied prospectively from the first day of the first reporting period following the change in the business model (reclassification date).

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at amortized cost category to financial assets at FVPL, any gain or loss arising from the difference between the previous amortized cost of the financial asset and fair value is recognized in profit or loss.

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at amortized cost category to financial assets at FVOCI, any gain or loss arising from a difference between the previous amortized cost of the financial asset and fair value is recognized in OCI.

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at FVPL category to financial assets at amortized cost, its fair value at the reclassification date becomes its new gross carrying amount.

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at FVOCI category to financial assets at amortized cost, any gain or loss previously recognized in OCI, and any difference between the new amortized cost and maturity amount, are amortized to profit or loss over the remaining life of the investment using the effective interest method. If the financial asset is subsequently impaired, any gain or loss that has been recognized in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss.

In the case of a financial asset that does not have a fixed maturity, the gain or loss shall be recognized in profit or loss when the financial asset is sold or disposed. If the financial asset is subsequently impaired, any previous gain or loss that has been recognized in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss.

For a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at FVPL category to financial assets at FVOCI, its fair value at the reclassification date becomes its new gross carrying amount. Meanwhile, for a financial asset reclassified out of the financial assets at FVOCI category to financial assets at FVPL, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment at the reclassification date.

Impairment of Financial Assets

Expected credit loss methodology

ECL represent credit losses that reflect an unbiased and probability-weighted amount which is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes, the time value of money and reasonable and supportable information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions. ECL allowances will be measured at amounts equal to either:

- 12-month ECL
- lifetime ECL for those financial instruments which have experienced a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition.

The 12-month ECL is the portion of lifetime ECL that results from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the twelve (12) months after the reporting date. Lifetime ECL are credit losses that results from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial asset.

Staging assessment
For non-credit-impaired financial instruments:

Stage 1 is comprised of all non-impaired financial assets which have not experienced a SICR since initial recognition. The Company recognizes a 12-month ECL for Stage 1 financial assets.

Stage 2 is comprised of all non-impaired financial assets which have experienced a SICR since initial recognition. The Company recognizes a lifetime ECL for Stage 2 financial assets.

For credit-impaired financial instruments:
Financial instruments are classified as Stage 3 when there is objective evidence of impairment.

Write-off Policy
A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cashflows.

Definition of "default"
The Company classifies receivables, or any financial asset as in default when it is credit impaired or becomes past due on its contractual payments for more than 90 days. As part of a qualitative assessment of whether a customer is in default, the Company considers a variety of instances that may indicate unlikeliness to pay. When such events occur, the Company carefully considers whether the event should result in treating the customer as defaulted.

Significant increase in credit risk (SICR)
The credit risk of a particular exposure is deemed to have increased significantly since initial recognition if, based on the Company's aging information, the borrower becomes past due for over 30 days. Further, the Company assumes that the credit risk of a financial asset, particularly on cash and equivalents and receivables from customers, clearing house and non-customers, has not increased significantly since origination if the financial asset is determined to have "low credit risk" as of the reporting date. A financial asset is considered "low credit risk" when it has an external rating equivalent to "high grade".

In subsequent reporting periods, if the credit risk of the financial instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Company shall revert to recognizing a 12-month ECL.

Impairment of financial assets at Amortized Cost and FVOCI
The Company will recognize an allowance for "expected credit loss" (ECL) if there is an indication of default. ECL is based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive. The difference is then discounted at an approximation to the asset's original effective interest rate.

For trade receivables, the Company has applied the simplified approach and has calculated ECLs based on the lifetime expected credit losses. The Company has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

Derecognition of Financial Assets and Liabilities

Financial Assets
A financial asset (or where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- the right to receive cash flows from the asset has expired;
- the Company retains the right to receive cash flows from the financial asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or
- the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from the financial asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from a financial asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset nor transferred control of the financial asset, the financial asset is recognized to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement in the financial asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred financial asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the financial asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to pay.

Financial Liabilities
A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

A modification is considered substantial if the present value of the cash flows under the new terms, including net fees paid or received and discounted using the original effective interest rate, is different by at least 10% from the discounted present value of remaining cash flows of the original liability.

The fair value of the modified financial liability is determined based on its expected cash flows, discounted using the interest rate at which the Company could raise debt with similar terms and conditions in the market. The difference between the carrying value of the original liability and fair value of the new liability is recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

On the other hand, if the difference does not meet the 10% threshold, the original debt is not extinguished but merely modified. In such case, the carrying amount is adjusted by the costs or fees paid or received in the restructuring.

Offsetting of Financial Assets and Liabilities
Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the statements of financial position if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. This is not generally the case with master netting agreements, and the related assets and liabilities are presented gross in the statements of financial position.

Classification of Financial Instrument between Liability and Equity
A financial instrument is classified as liability if it provides for a contractual obligation to:
- Deliver cash or another financial asset to another entity;
- Exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with another entity under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the Company; or
- Satisfy the obligation other than by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of own equity shares.

If the Company does not have an unconditional right to avoid delivering cash or another financial asset to settle its contractual obligation, the obligation meets the definition of a financial liability.

Derivative Financial Instruments and Hedging

Freestanding Derivatives. For the purpose of hedge accounting, hedges are classified as either:
a) fair value hedges when hedging the exposure to changes in the fair value of a recognized asset or liability or an unrecognized firm commitment (except for foreign currency risk);
b) cash flow hedges when hedging exposure to variability in cash flows that is either attributable to a particular risk associated with a recognized asset or liability, a highly probable forecast transaction or the foreign currency risk in an unrecognized firm commitment; or
c) hedges of a net investment in foreign operations.

At the inception of a hedge relationship, the Company formally designates and documents the hedge relationship to which the Company wishes to apply hedge accounting and the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge. The documentation includes identification of the hedging instruments, the hedged item or transaction, the nature of the risk being hedged and how the entity will assess the hedging instrument's effectiveness in offsetting the exposure to changes in the hedged item's fair value or cash flows attributable to the hedged risk. Such hedges are expected to be highly effective in achieving offsetting changes in fair value or cash flows and are assessed on an ongoing basis to determine that they actually have been highly effective throughout the financial reporting periods for which they were designated.

Fair Value Hedge. Derivatives classified as fair value hedges are carried at fair value with corresponding change in fair value recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. The carrying amount of the hedged asset or liability is also adjusted for changes in fair value attributable to the hedged item and the gain or loss associated with that remeasurement is also recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

When the hedge ceases to be highly effective, hedge accounting is discontinued and the adjustment to the carrying amount of a hedged financial instrument is amortized immediately.

The Company discontinues fair value hedge accounting if:

a) the hedging instrument expires, is sold, is terminated or is exercised;
b) the hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting; or
c) the Company revokes the designation.

The Company has no derivatives accounted for as a fair value hedge as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Cash Flow Hedge. Changes in the fair value of a hedging instrument that qualifies as a highly effective cash flow hedge are recognized in other comprehensive income presented in the separate statements of changes in equity. The ineffective portion is immediately recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

If the hedged cash flow results in the recognition of an asset or a liability, all gains or losses previously recognized directly in the separate statements of changes in equity are transferred and included in the initial measurement of the cost or carrying amount of the asset or liability. Otherwise, for all other cash flow hedges, gains or losses initially recognized in the separate statements of changes in equity are transferred to the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income in the same period or periods during which the hedged forecasted transaction or recognized asset or liability affects the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

When the hedged ceases to be highly effective, hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. The cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument that has been reported directly in the separate statements of changes in equity is retained until the forecasted transaction occurs. When the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, any net cumulative gain or loss previously reported in the separate statements of changes in equity is recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

The Company has no outstanding derivatives accounted for as a cash flow hedge as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Net Investment Hedge. Hedges of a net investment in a foreign operation, including a hedge of a monetary item that is accounted for as part of the net investment, are accounted for in a way similar to cash flow hedges. Gains or losses on the hedging instrument relating to the effective portion of the hedge are recognized in other comprehensive income while any gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative value of any such gains and losses recorded in the separate statements of changes in equity is transferred to and recognized in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

The Company has no hedge of a net investment in a foreign operation as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Changes in fair values of derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting are recognized directly in the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Embedded Derivatives. The Company assesses whether embedded derivatives are required to be separated from the host contracts when the Company becomes a party to the contract. An embedded derivative is separated from the host contract and accounted for as derivative if all of the following conditions are met:

a) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivatives are not closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract;
b) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative would meet the definition of a derivative; and
c) the hybrid or combined instrument is not recognized as FVPL.

Reassessment only occurs if there is a change in the terms of the contract that significantly modifies the cash flows that would otherwise be required.

Embedded derivatives that are bifurcated from the host contracts are accounted for either as financial assets or financial liabilities at FVPL.

The Company has no derivatives as at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The initial cost of property and equipment comprises its purchase price, including import duties and taxes and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use. When significant parts of property and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Company recognizes such parts as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciates them accordingly.

Likewise, when a major inspection is performed, its cost is recognized in the carrying amount of the property and equipment as a replacement if the recognition criteria are satisfied. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as incurred.

Depreciation is computed on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets:

Condominium unit	40 years
Office furniture, fixtures and equipment	3 years
Transportation equipment	6 years

The useful lives and methods of depreciation of property and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

The carrying values of property and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists and where the carrying values exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss in the statement of profit or loss.

Intangible Asset

Trading Rights

Trading rights is carried at fair value. It is initially recorded at cost. It has indefinite useful life and is tested for impairment annually at the cash generating-unit level. Such intangible asset is not amortized. The useful life of an intangible asset with an indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether indefinite life assessment continues to be supportable. If not, the change in the useful life assessment from indefinite to definite is made on a prospective basis. Trading rights is subsequently measured at fair value. The fair value of the asset can be determined by reference to an active market at a subsequent measurement date, the revaluation model is applied from that date. If an intangible asset's carrying amount is increased as a result of a revaluation, the increase shall be credited directly to equity under the heading of revaluation surplus. However, the increase shall be recognized in statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease of the same asset previously recognized in profit or loss.

If an intangible asset's carrying amount is decreased as a result of a revaluation the decrease shall be recognized in statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. However, the decrease shall be debited directly to equity under the heading of revaluation surplus to the extent of any credit balance in the revaluation surplus in respect of that asset.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets
Property, furniture and equipment and trading rights are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists and where the carrying values exceed the estimated recoverable amount, the assets or cash-generating units are written down to their recoverable amounts.

The estimated recoverable amount is the greater of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples or other available fair value indicators. For an asset that does not generate largely independent cash inflows, the estimated recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Impairment loss is recognized in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Reversal of impairment losses recognized in prior years is recorded when that there is an indication that the impairment losses recognized for the asset no longer exist or have decreased. The reversal is recorded in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

However, the increased carrying amount of an asset due to reversal of an impairment loss is recognized to the extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years.

Derecognition of Nonfinancial Assets
An item of the property, furniture and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on the derecognition of the assets (computed as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income in the year the assets is derecognized.

Capital Stock
Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued. This includes common stocks only.

Retained Earnings
Retained earnings represent cumulative balance of periodic net income or loss, dividend distribution, prior period adjustments, effect of changes in accounting policy and other capital adjustments.

Cash dividends are recognized as a liability and deducted from retained earnings when approved by the Board of Directors.

Revenue Recognition
Revenue is recognized at an amount that reflects the consideration to which an entity expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer. The standard requires the Company to exercise judgment, taking into consideration all of the relevant facts and circumstances when applying each step of the model to contracts with their customers. The standard also specifies the accounting for the incremental costs of obtaining a contract and the costs directly related to fulfilling a contract. The PFRS 15 establishes a five-step model to account for revenue arising from contracts with customers. The five-step model is as follows:

- Identify the contract(s) with a customer
- Identify the performance obligations in the contract
- Determine the transaction price
- Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligation in the contract
- Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

The following specific criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Commissions
The Company's main revenue is derived from commission income on trade execution service recognized at a point in time when control of the service has transferred to the customer. Transfer of control of the trade execution performance obligation generally occurs on the trade date because that is when the underlying financial instrument is identified and the pricing is agreed upon. On the trade date, the customer has obtained control of the service because it can direct the use of, and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from, the asset that comes from the trade execution service.

Interest Income
Interest income is recognized as the interest accrues using the effective interest rate method.
Dividend Income
Dividend income is recognized when the Company's right to receive the payment is established.

Trading gains (losses) – net
Results arising from trading activities include all gains and losses from changes in fair value for financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL and gains and losses from disposal of investment securities at FVTPL.

Unrealized trading gains and losses comprise changes in the fair value of financial instruments for the period and from reversal of prior period's unrealized gains and losses for financial instruments which were realized in the reporting period. Realized gains and losses on disposals of financial instruments classified as at FVTPL are calculated using the first-in, first-out (FIFO method. It represents the difference between an instrument's initial carrying amount and disposal amount.

Expenses Recognition
Expenses are recognized when it is probable that a decrease in future economic benefit related to a decrease in an asset or an increase in liability has occurred and the decrease in future economic benefits can be measured reliably. Expenses encompass losses as well as those expenses that arise in the course of the ordinary activities of the Company. Expenses are recognized as incurred.

Comprehensive Income
The Company uses single statement of comprehensive income, in which it presents all items of income and expense recognized in the period.

Related Party Relationships and Transactions
Related party relationship exists when (a) a person or a close member of that person's family has control or joint control, has significant influence or is a member of the key management personnel of the reporting entity or a parent of the reporting entity. (b) An entity is related to the Company if, the entity and the Company are members of the same group, one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity, both entities are joint ventures of the same third party, one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third party, an entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of the Company, the entity is controlled or joint controlled by a person who has control or joint control over the Company and a person as identified in (a) above has significant influence over the entity is a member of the key management personnel of the entity or of a parent of the entity. In considering each possible related party relationship, attention is directed to the substance of the relationships, and not merely to the legal form.

A related party transaction is a transfer of resources, services or obligations between related parties, regardless of whether a price is charged.

Employee Benefits
Short-term employee benefits
Wages, salaries, paid annual leave and sick leave, bonuses, and non-monetary benefits (such as health services and childcare services) are recognized as employee benefit expense and accrued when the associated services are rendered by the employee of the Company. Other employee benefits include Social Security System, Philhealth and other contributions.

Retirement Cost
The Company does not have an established retirement plan and only conforms to the minimum regulatory benefit under the Retirement Pay Law (Republic Act No. 7641) which is of the defined benefit type and provides a retirement benefit equal to 22.5 days pay for every year of credited service. The regulatory benefit is paid in a lump sum upon retirement.
The retirement cost of the Company is determined by applying the Accrued Benefit Cost Method taking into account the factors of investment, mortality, disability and salary projection rate.
The amended PAS 19(R) simplifies the reporting of the defined benefit cost by introducing the Net Interest Approach, which disaggregates the defined benefit cost into the following components: Service cost, Net interest and Remeasurements.

Under the Net Interest Approach, Service Cost and Net Interest on the defined benefit liability (asset) are both recognized in profit or loss in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, while remeasurements of the defined benefit liability (asset) are recognized outside profit or loss in Other Comprehensive Income (OCI).

It is further required by Amended PAS 19 (R) that remeasurements recognized in OCI shall not be reclassified to profit or loss in a subsequent period. However, the Company may transfer those amounts recognized in OCI within equity.

Leases
The Company assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a lessee
The Company applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short term leases. The Company recognizes lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

Income Taxes
The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax.

Current tax
The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the financial position date where the company operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred tax
Deferred income tax is recognized on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. However, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized if they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill; deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

Current and deferred tax for the year
Current and deferred tax are recognized in statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Value-added Tax (VAT)
Revenue, expenses and assets are recognized net of the amount of VAT, except:

- where the VAT incurred on a purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the tax authority, in which case the VAT is recognized as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item applicable; and
- receivables and payables that are stated with the amount of VAT included.

Loss Per Share
Basic loss per share is calculated by dividing net loss by the number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted loss per share amount is calculated by dividing net loss by the number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year plus the number of ordinary shares outstanding that would be issued on the conversion of all the dilutive potential ordinary shares into ordinary shares.

Provisions

Provisions are recognized when present obligations will probably lead to an outflow of economic resources and they can be estimated reliably even if the timing or amount of the outflow may still be uncertain. A present obligation arises from the presence of a legal or constructive commitment that has resulted from past events.

Provisions are measured at the estimated expenditure required to settle the present obligation, based on the most reliable evidence available at the financial position date, including the risks and uncertainties associated with the present obligation. Any reimbursement expected to be received in the course of settlement of the present obligation is recognized, if virtually certain as a separate asset, not exceeding the amount of the related provision. Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. In addition, long-term provisions are discounted to their present values, where time value of money is material. Provisions are reviewed at each financial position date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

In those cases where the possible outflow of economic resource as a result of present obligations is considered probable or remote, or the amount to be provided for cannot be measured reliably, no liability is recognized in the financial statements.

Probable inflows of economic benefits that do not yet meet the recognition criteria of an asset are considered contingent assets, hence, are not recognized in the financial statements.

Contingencies

Contingent liabilities represent possible obligations whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company. They are not recognized in the financial statements but are disclosed unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote.

A contingent asset is not recognized in the financial statements but disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Events After the Reporting Date

The Company identifies post year-end events as events that occurred after the reporting date but before the date when the financial statements were authorized for issue. Post year-end events that provide additional information about the Company's position at the reporting date (adjusting events) are reflected in the financial statements. Post year-end events that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the financial statements when material.

Comparatives

When necessary, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to the changes in the presentation of the current year.

3. Management Use of Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with PFRS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the amounts reported in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

In particular, information about the significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements is included in the following:

Judgments

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimations that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements:

a) Determination of Functional Currency

The Company has determined that its functional currency is the Philippine Peso. The determination of the functional currency was based on the primary economic environment in which the Company generates cash.

b) Classification of Financial Instruments

The Company classifies a financial instrument, or its component parts, on initial recognition as a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument in accordance with the substance of the contractual agreement and the definitions of a financial asset, a financial liability or an equity instrument. In addition, the Company also determines and evaluates its intention and ability to keep the investments until its maturity date.

The substance of a financial instrument, rather than its legal form, and the management's intention and ability to hold the financial instrument to maturity generally governs its classification in the statements of financial position.

The classification of the Company's financial instruments is presented in Note 2.

c) Determination of lease term of contracts with renewal option – Company as a lessee

The Company has several lease contracts that include renewal option. The Company applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain whether or not to exercise the option to renew the lease. That is, it considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise the renewal. After the commencement date, the Company reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise or not to exercise the option to renew (e.g., construction of significant leasehold improvements or significant customization to the leased asset).

Estimates

The key assumptions concerning the future and other sources of estimation uncertainty as at the date of financial position that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below:

a) Estimating credit losses on receivables

The Company reviews its receivable from clearing house and customers on a periodic basis to assess their impairment at an individual level. In assessing for impairment, the Company determines whether there is any objective evidence indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows of its receivables.

Factors considered in individual assessment are payment history, past-due status and term. The methodology and assumptions used for individual assessment are based on management's judgment and estimate. The amount and timing of recognizing credit loss for any period would differ if the Company made different assumptions or utilized different estimates. An increase in allowance for credit losses would decrease net profit and total assets.

As provided in the Revised Securities Regulation Code (SRC) Rule 52.1, every broker dealer shall establish appropriate allowance for credit losses and the basis for such computation of the allowance shall be properly disclosed. The SEC or the PSE shall have the prerogative to determine the reasonableness of such receivable valuation taking into consideration the GAAP and industry practices.

Impairment provisions for trade receivables are recognized based on the simplified approach within PFRS 9 using the lifetime expected credit losses. During this process the probability of the non-payment of the trade receivables is assessed. This probability is then multiplied by the amount of the expected loss arising from default to determine the lifetime expected credit loss for the trade receivables. For trade receivables, which are reported net, such provisions are recorded in a separate provision account with the loss being recognized within operating expenses in the statements of profit and loss and other comprehensive income.

On confirmation that the trade receivable will not be collectible, the gross carrying value of the asset is written off against the associated provision.

Impairment provisions for receivables from related parties and loans to related parties are recognized based on a forward-looking expected credit loss model. The methodology used to determine the amount of the provision is based on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial asset. For those where the credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition of the financial asset, twelve month expected credit losses along with gross interest income are recognized. For those for which credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime expected credit losses along with the gross interest income are recognized. For those that are determined to be credit impaired, lifetime expected credit losses along with interest income on a net basis are recognized.

The carrying amounts of the Company's receivable from customers and receivable from clearing house are shown and disclosed in Notes 7 and 8.

The Company has assessed that there is no need to provide for any allowance for credit losses on its receivables as at December 31, 2025 and 2024 as the Company is following the T+1 settlement rule.

b) Estimated Useful Lives (EUL) of Property and Equipment

The Company annually reviews the EUL of property and equipment based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use and updates if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, and technical or commercial obsolescence. It is possible that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in these estimates brought about by changes in the factors mentioned.

The estimated useful lives of property and equipment are disclosed in Note 2 which showed no changes in 2025 and 2024.

The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. A reduction in the estimated useful lives of property and equipment would increase recorded operating expenses and decrease non-current assets.

The carrying amounts and accumulated depreciation of the Company's property and equipment are disclosed in Note 10.

c) Impairment on financial asset at FVOCI

The Company determines that financial asset at FVOCI are impaired where there has been a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below its cost. This determination of what is significant or prolonged requires judgment. The Company treats "significant" generally as 20% or more of the original cost of investment, and prolonged as greater than 12 months. In making this judgment, the Company evaluates, among other factors, the normal volatility in price.

In addition, impairment may be appropriate where there is evidence of deterioration in the financial health of the investee, industry and sector performance, changes in technology and operational and financing cash flows.

No impairment loss has been recognized by the Company on its financial asset at FVOCI for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

The value of the Company's financial asset at FVOCI are shown and disclosed in Note 6.

d) Impairment of Non-financial Assets

The Company assesses impairment on assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The factors that the Company considers important which could trigger an impairment review include the following:

- significant underperformance relative to the expected historical or projected future operating results;
- significant changes in the manner of use of the acquired assets or the strategy for overall business; and
- significant negative industry or economic trends;
- permanent decline in fair value of the asset;
- market interest rates or other market rates of return on investments have increased during the period, and those increases are likely to affect the discount rate used in calculating the assets value in use and decrease the asset's recoverable amount materially.

If any indicator exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, none of these indicators exist on the Company's property and equipment.

e) Trading Rights

Trading rights is reviewed and tested whenever there is indication of impairment and at least at each statement of financial position date.

f) Deferred Income Tax Assets

The Company reviews the carrying amounts of deferred income tax assets as at the date of financial position and reduces deferred income tax assets to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax assets to be utilized. The management assessment on the recognition of deferred income tax assets on deductible temporary differences is based on the level and timing of forecasted taxable income of the subsequent periods. This forecast is based on the Company's past results and future expectations on revenues and expenses as well as future tax planning strategies. However, there is no assurance that the Company will generate sufficient taxable profit to allow all or part of the deferred income tax assets to be utilized.

g) Present Value of Retirement Benefit Obligation

The cost of the defined benefit pension plan and the present value of the pension obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and future pension increases. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The valuation results are based on the employee data as of valuation dates as provided by the Company. The discount rate assumption is based on the PDEx (PDST-R2) benchmark market yields on government bonds as of the valuation dates (or latest available) considering the average years of remaining working life of the employees as the estimated term of the benefit obligation.

h) Contingencies

The Company currently has various legal claims. The estimate of the probable costs for the resolution of these claims has been developed in consultation with outside counsel handling the Company's defense relating to these matters and is based upon an analysis of potential results. The Company currently does not believe that these claims will have a material adverse effect on its financial position and results of operations.

Trade receivables from margin customers have no specific credit terms but customers are required to maintain the value of their collateral within a specific level. Once the value of the collateral falls down this level, customers may either deposit additional collateral or sell stocks to cover the deficiency in their account balance. Meanwhile, receivables from post-paid customers are required to be settled on two (2) trading days' term.

The trade receivables balances become demandable upon failure of the customer to duly comply with these requirements. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, trade receivables from customers are fully covered by collateral, hence very minimal allowance for credit losses is provided.

Under the Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) rules, all exchange membership seats are pledged at its full value to the PSE to secure the payment of all debts due to other members of the exchange arising out of or in connection with the present or future member's contracts. The latest selling price of the membership stock exchange seat, as provided by the PSE amounts to ₱7.7 million and ₱8 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

In 2001, the demutualization or conversion of PSE into a stock corporation was approved by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) effective August 8, 2001. Each membership seat will be exchanged for shares of stock of PSE. In accordance with the conversion, PSE will issue 9.2 million shares with a par value of ₱1 per share out of the members' contribution of ₱286.6 million. Thus, each of the 184 members/brokers will subscribe to a total of 50,000 shares of stocks with a par value of ₱1 per share. The balance of members' contribution of ₱277.4 million will be treated as additional paid-in surplus in the financial statements of PSE.

In addition to the shares, each member will receive a Certificate of Trading Right to maintain their continued access to the trading floor of PSE. The Right can be assigned and transferred by the members.

PSE, however, will not issue shares of stocks for the value of its donated assets. The donated assets consisting of two (2) pieces of real property located in Makati and Pasig City, where its trading floors are located, are subject to restrictions on their transferability.

The effects of the conversion plan specifically on the separate valuation of the ownership of the exchange seat and the trading rights have been recognized in the Company's financial statements.

In 2000, the SEC filed a case against 50 individuals, brokers and investment houses for alleged violations of the Revised Securities Act and certain rules of the PSE, because of their involvement in the trading of the shares of stock of Best World Resources Corporation (BW). The Department of Justice (DOJ) in a resolution dated December 18, 2000, has dismissed for lack of evidence the case against some individuals, brokers and investment houses, including the Company.

On February 24, 2001, however, the SEC refiled with the DOJ the third version of the charge sheet against 100 individuals and stockbrokers and other parties for preliminary investigation.

On a resolution dated March 8, 2002, the DOJ modified its December 18, 2000 resolution and recommended that certain respondents, including the Company, be charged in court. To date, the case is now undergoing trial before the Regional Trial Court of Pasig City. Management and its legal counsel, however, believe that all its transactions are legitimate, above board, and consistent with existing rules and regulations.

On a resolution dated January 2007, the DOJ has resolved with a recommendation, final and executory to hold respondents for trial for alleged violations of the Revised Securities Act and the Securities Regulation Code. Management and its legal counsel, however, believe that respondents will finally be exonerated and acquitted. In the early part of 2008, an officer of the Company is a party litigant in a criminal case at the pre-trial stage.

The officer of the Company has been found guilty beyond reasonable doubt by the Regional Trial Court (RTC). As of December 31, 2025, the case is on appeal before the Supreme Court.

a) To allow a net capital of P2.5 million or 2.5% Aggregate Indebtedness (AI), whichever is higher for broker dealers dealing only in proprietary shares and not holding securities;
b) To allow the SEC to set a different net capital required for those authorized to use the Risk-Based Capital Adequacy (RBCA) model;
c) To require unimpaired paid-up capital of ₱100.00 million for broker dealers, which are either first time registrants or those acquiring existing broker dealer firms and will participate in a registered clearing agency; ₱10.00 million plus a surety bond for existing broker dealers not engaged in market-making transactions; and ₱2.50 million for broker dealers dealing only in proprietary shares and not holding securities.
